Armillary Sundial Pass-Through Fund

The Reads Creek Armillary Sundial Preservation Project has been created to raise funds to set the historical landmark sundial back to true north. The sundial was created by scientist Royce Jones and friends between 1988 and 1990, this armillary sundial is said to be the largest in the world. A massive rainstorm in 2016 caused severe damage to the sundial and the property that supported the sundial. With the help of experts, equipment, and the public we plan to build gardens and repair the sundial so that it will become a destination for area residents and tourists. Telling the story of working hard, persevering, being humble, helping others, asking questions, learning every day, and finding your own true north will resonate with those who want to get back to basics.

Dr. Robert & Janet Starr Scholarship Fund (Viroqua)

Bob loved growing up in this small, Richland County city and he graduated from Richland Center High School in 1944. He met the love of his life, Janet McCollum, in high school and they were married in Richland Center in 1947.

Bob and Janet both attended the University of Wisconsin in Madison and graduated from the UW in 1948. Bob went on to attend the UW Medical School, graduating in 1950. After graduating from medical school, the Starr's moved to Kansas City, Kansas where Dr. Starr interned at the University of Kansas Medical Center until 1951. He was in the United States Naval Reserve and served on active duty as a physician aboard the USS Marine Phoenix during the Korean War.

In 1951, Bob and Janet settled in Viroqua, Wisconsin and Bob joined Drs. Raymond Hirsch and Harold Oppert, forming the Hirsch Clinic. After returning from Korea, Robert practiced family medicine in Viroqua from 1954 until his retirement in 1996. He was especially proud of helping to deliver 3,253 babies during those years. He was honored to be named the Wisconsin Family Physician of the Year in 1990. Dr. Starr was a member of the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Family Practice, the Wisconsin Medical Alumni Association and he served as Vernon County Coroner for fourteen years. He was a teacher and mentor to medical and physician assistant students, helping to train the next generation of health care providers.

Bob and Janet were members of the Viroqua United Methodist Church, where Bob enjoyed singing in the church choir for many years. Bob was very active in the Viroqua community and was involved in the building of the Community Arena, the restoration of the Temple Theatre, building the new Vernon County Humane Society shelter, and restoring the Viroqua Area Schools track and football field. In 2010, the Starr Humane Achievement Award was created by the Vernon County Humane Society to honor those who give dedicated, humane services to homeless companion animals. He was also a founding member of the Viroqua Area Foundation. Bob and Janet loved Viroqua as their hometown and Bob strived to leave things a little better for having been there.

“Doc” loved life and he lived it with great enthusiasm. He loved the practice of medicine, blending art and science in the treatment of his fellow human beings. He loved to play golf at Viroqua Hills and he begat several generations of players. He loved to play in scrambles and had a knack for making ridiculously long putts. He loved to go fishing at DeSoto Bay on the Mississippi and on Spooner Lake. He loved to hike on his farmland on Pleasant Ridge and he loved to raise a garden, “scratching Mother Earth’s back” as he raked the soil. He loved cheering for the Viroqua Blackhawks, the Wisconsin Badgers, and the Green Bay Packers. He loved to help things grow, whether it was roses in his garden, trees at the golf course, or his children and grandchildren. He swam at the Bigley pool, ice skated at the Community Arena, rode his horses in parades, and danced at the Driftless Music Festival. He had a song for every occasion. He loved the pursuit of knowledge and truth and he searched for the answers to life’s questions his entire life. And, most of all, he loved his family and was a wonderful provider for five generations of Starr’s.

Janet grew up in Richland Center and graduated from Richland Center High School in 1944. She met her husband, Robert Starr, in high school and they were married in 1947. They celebrated 70 years of marriage in 2017. Janet received her degree in Related Art and then embarked on her life-long career as spouse, mother, grandmother, and small-town doctor’s wife. Being a doctor’s wife in rural America in the mid-twentieth century meant being a part-time receptionist, scheduler, counselor, bookkeeper, and secretary along with the full-time job of wife, mother, and homemaker. Janet’s meticulous nature and attention to detail made her perfect for the job of getting everyone in the family to everywhere they needed to be, when they needed to be there. They were truly a team in caring for their neighbors in Viroqua. Janet made her house a home. Her children and her grandchildren (and their friends) were welcomed and cared for and comfortable. There was always a brownie or a cookie and a glass of milk for those after-school visits to the Starr's house. She washed tons of athletic gear, ironed thousands of shirts, and made a million peanut butter sandwiches for hundreds of sack lunches. And, every evening, she took a few minutes to lay down with each child at bedtime to listen to their cares and their concerns, and to go over the events of the day. She was a member of the Viroqua United Methodist Church and active in its women's groups. She served as the Corresponding Secretary for the Vernon County Historical Society, chaired Viroqua fundraisers for the American Cancer Society, UNICEF, and served on the Board of Directors of Schmitt Woodland Hills in Richland Center. Her favorite cause of all was the gift shop at Vernon Memorial Healthcare where she spent years working and organizing the volunteers. She was the family "prayer warrior" and was often called upon to "face the East" (as she would say) before a big exam or airline flight. It was the little things she did with love that made her special; the perfect card for every occasion, the note to a college student with a few dollars enclosed, or the little gifts she bought for her friends. She recorded the lives of the whole Starr family in beautiful photo albums and scrapbooks.

John & Grace Dyson Charitable Remainder Fund

John was born on June 4, 1929, in Viroqua, Wisconsin. He grew up in Viroqua and graduated from the Lake Forest Academy in Lake Forest, Illinois before attending Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, earning a degree in Economics in 1951. After college, he served in the U.S. Air Force in Germany before beginning his career with Kimberly Clark in Niagara Falls, New York. With Kimberly Clark, he later moved to New York City, where he married Grace Danelo in 1962. Upon the death of his father, John moved his young family back to Viroqua so he could serve as President of the State Bank of Viroqua. During this time, John was a member of the Viroqua Country Club, VFW and the American Legion, and was a board member of the La Crosse Trust Company and the Viroqua Cemetery Association. John enjoyed golf, travel, cigars, crossword puzzles, music, sailing, and watching movies and sports of all types, especially football and his beloved Packers. He was a quiet, intelligent man, with a keen sense of humor.

John's father was Fred Dyson, who was one of the founders of the State Bank of Viroqua. His great grandfather was Frederick Eckhart, who was one of the first to bring tobacco to Vernon County. Frederick built one of the now historic tobacco buildings in the 1800s. Fred donated the land for the city park, Eckhart Park, and for the armory. Fred built the Dyson/Eckhart B&B for his son-in-law W.D. Dyson and his daughter Minnie Eckhart. The Dyson family was one of the original owners of the Historic Temple Theatre.

Grace was born on May 6, 1930, in Rochester, New York. She grew up in Brighton, MN, and graduated from Brighton High School before attending Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, where she earned a degree in Home Economics in 1952. She worked several years in New York City before marrying her college love, John Dyson. They were married on July 21, 1962 and were married 56 years. After starting their family in Manhattan, Grace and John decided Viroqua was a more suitable place to raise their children and made the move in 1965. They spent nearly 30 years in Viroqua. Grace enjoyed all aspects of being a wife and mother. When she wasn't busy caring for her family, she enjoyed traveling; attending the theater, symphony and movies; and golfing in her later years. Those who knew Grace will remember her devotion to John and her children, her intelligence and her quiet grace.

The Dyson Family established the Dyson Scholarship Fund to encourage more Viroqua students to pursue their dreams and continue their education. John and Grace passionately believed that education was the key to a successful future. Their three children attended Viroqua High in the 1980s, followed by post-graduate degrees from Wisconsin and Minnesota. John was adamant in his desire to continue the Dyson/Eckhart family legacy of generously giving back to Viroqua families to build a better community.

The Dyson Family established the Viroqua Cemetery Donor-Advised Fund to assist in the preservation, maintenance, and beautification of the Viroqua Cemetery. The Dyson Family established the Viroqua Parks Donor-Advised Fund to assist in the maintenance and/or construction of a new playground/splashpad in downtown Viroqua.

John Patrick Cina Scholarship Fund (De Soto)

John was born on May 13, 1986 in La Crosse. He briefly attended Howard College in San Angelo, TX. on a baseball scholarship, he returned to WI and graduated from WTC after a baseball injury. John devoted his adult life to helping the youth of the greater La Crosse area. For five years he worked at Family and Children Center Residential Treatment Facility in La Crosse. John coached many teams and sports including the DeSoto basketball and football teams as well as the State Champion Onalaska American Legion baseball team. John was known most as a standout athlete and coach. But those that knew John best, remember him most for his magnetic personality and ability to make the person he was talking to feel like he had been waiting all day to see them. John was always ready with a story, unusual fact, or movie quote. He was the guy people wanted to be around, he made you laugh and feel like he wanted you there too. As an athlete, any team was better when he was part of it, even if he just sat on the bench and told stories. He was happier with a team win than personal achievements. As a coach, John served as a role model and tried to impart his vast knowledge and respect for the game. Most importantly, as a friend and family member, John was unbelievably devoted and proud. He was constantly sharing stories of good times with other friends or something funny a niece or nephew did.
